

Compliance

Maneuvering the intricate labyrinth of government and regulatory affairs can more often than not be a time-consuming, complicated and perplexing endeavor for those who are not experienced in the compliance arena. While challenging to those well versed in the field, it is not uncommon for efforts to be delayed, postponed, forgotten and even disregarded by those who can't spare the time needed to obtain compliance. However with the mounting attempts to seek adherence, the Department of Labor (DOL) has implemented Active Case Enforcement Procedures (ACE). First implemented in January 2011, ACE replaces the Active Case Management (ACM) protocol, and features full desk audits, increased onsite evaluations, focused evaluations, and full reviews. This initiative rightfully implies a proactive effort on the part of the DOL. Fines and penalties will be a source of significant lost capital for many. We can make the cost-conscious investment in safeguarding your business a remunerative and worthwhile undertaking.
